Festive Cheer in Esperance

The annual Community Christmas Pageant is gearing up again this year and the Shire of Esperance is looking for groups and floats of all shapes and sizes to be part of the parade.

The Pageant is on Sunday 10 December starting at 3.30pm and celebrates the festive season in Esperance with fun in which everyone can be involved.

Santa will be there for photos and you can also send him a letter at Santa's Postbox that will be installed at the Museum Village on the afternoon of the pageant. The letters will be waiting for Santa when he gets back to the North Pole, and if you leave your name and address he'll be able to send one back!

There will be community floats, free face painting, Museum Village Markets and Lions Carols by Candlelight. This is a wonderful opportunity for local service clubs and schools to set up food stalls to raise money and awareness of their contribution to our community.

Shire President Victoria Brown said, "I love this annual event and can feel the excitement build as the plans start to fall into place. This is always festive fun for the whole family!"

"The community loves to see all the decorated floats, groups, dancers, musicians and much more in the parade. I encourage everyone to think about registering in the parade, and if that's not for you, then we'll see you there watching all the fun take place!"

You can register to be in the parade for the Community Christmas Pageant via the Shire's website.
